Facial Rejuvenation Acupuncture

A Safe Alternative to Botox or Surgery

What is Facial Rejuvenation Acupuncture?

- Also known as Cosmetic Acupuncture, Facial Rejuvenation Acupuncture is a virtually painless, non-surgical method of reducing signs of the aging process. The technique uses acupuncture and Chinese herbal medicine to erase years off of the faces.
- Based on the principles of Oriental Medicine, it helps the whole body look and feel younger by addressing the physical, mental and emotional patterns that cause diseases and contribute to the aging process.
- Cosmetic Acupuncture reverses this process by promoting the re-introduction of "Qi" (the energy flow or body's natural healing energy) into aging skin. "Qi" allows increased blood flow to the skin which increases moisture, promotes collagen production, reverses wrinkles, etc.

- Cosmetic Acupuncture directly addresses the physiologic causes of skin aging. Cosmetic Acupuncture actually arrests skin aging and rejuvenates the skin to a more natural, youthful and healthy appearance.
